HARD ROCK HOTEL AND CASINO

The newest steakhouse in Las Vegas was put together by the family behind Morton's The Steakhouse, featuring familiar favorites with room for experimentation like the caviar sliders and surf 'n' turf tartare of filet and ahi tuna on the same plate. All bases are covered with American, Australian, and Japanese Wagyu on the menu. It's hard to find a better bite in town than the Miyazaki.

What sets it apart: The restaurant was built from the ground up within the Hard Rock and includes two levels of dining, as well as a private bar room for large parties. The second floor has a skylight and neon-filled views of the Strip to complement the lively social atmosphere.
